VALLEY GARDENS

The Valley Gardens is an English Heritage Grade II Listed garden, which has played a major role in Harrogate's success as a 'floral resort'. Before 1886 the valley running down from the Bogs Field was used as a park known as the Valley Pleasure Grounds. In that year the Corporation purchased the site, which was extended by later purchases of Harlow Moor in 1898 and 1926, and Collins Field in 1901, to form the area of the present Gardens. Subsequent embellishments included the building of the Sun Pavilion and the Sun Colonnade in the 1930s. The Gardens cover 17 acres along with the Pinewoods. Bogs Field contains a greater number of mineral springs than any other known place – 36 of Harrogate's 88 mineral wells are found within the Gardens of which no two are alike.

THE PINEWOODS CONSERVATION GROUP

This is a charitable group working in partnership with Harrogate Borough Council to protect, preserve and develop the woods. For further information on the work of the group, or to become involved, please contact Michelle Whitfield-Speed at: Secretary@harrogatepinewoodsgroup.org, or visit the website: www.harrogatepinewoodsgroup.org.
